FIRST. General characteristics of the convocation

The Intramurs cultural association announces the selection process of artistic projects for the fourth edition of "INTRAMURS, festival per l'art a Valencia" (INTRAMURS, festival for art in Valencia), a sample of urban and interdisciplinary character that will take place between the 19th and 29th October 2017 in Valencia.

The Intramurs cultural association is composed of professionals from the contemporary art: artists, designers, producers and managers.

The convocation to select artistic projects is aimed at all kinds of artists, regardless of their age, nationality, address, their relationship with the neighborhood or the city, etc.

The purpose of the festival is to promote contemporary art in all its aspects and bring it closer to citizens, promoting that the arts and culture are affordable and can be enjoyed by all. The intention is its pre-eminently urban character, enhancing the public character of all activities. With this intention, we want to move away from the use of institutional exhibition halls or the more traditional exhibitions to enhance the artistic and cultural exhibitions in urban or unconventional spaces, allowing the public to be present and part of the art in its urban context.

The area of celebration of the Festival is bounded by the surrounding urban space within the ancient walls of the city of Valencia, which is known as the district of "Ciutat Vella" and including: "La Seu", "La Xerea", "The Mercat", "The Carmen", "Velluters" and "Sant Francesc". Also the selection of virtual pieces is contemplated whenever they are linked with the district.

The festival wants to be in permanent contact with associations, institutions and shops of the area, with the intention to boost it culturally. So urban space will be used entirely as a context and framework for all artistic expressions, in many private spaces (studios, halls, bars, restaurants) and public spaces (streets, squares, gardens, pieces of wasteland, shop windows ...).

Projects will be selected from any type of contemporary artistic expression, whenever it is feasible in its implementation, and it meets the requirements of participation, given that our logistical limitations or lack of space can condition its viability. Any discipline is welcome: urban interventions, action art, performances, sound art, dance, poetry, video, fashion, photography, sculpture, painting, etc.

After the celebration of the festival, INTRAMURS intends to set up a gallery or permanent bank online data with pieces of the festival (once made and documented), as well as any other kind of record that has been obtained, such as routes, photos, videos, lectures, debates, interviews with artists and the public, etc., to serve as a catalog of data and consulting for artists and art professionals.

SECOND. Eligibility for Mini Intramurs

Somehow projects must be integrated into the context of the historical center, either with its history, its society, its architecture, etc., and if possible, to claim the historical center of Valencia as a space of cultural and artistic diversity for the XXI century.

Proposals attending the MINI INTRAMURS section are aimed at children, youth or family audience, and should actively seek to promote the approach of your target audience to any artistic discipline as well as sensory and creative stimulus. They will have priority proposals that involve the participation of an artist or involve the analysis of the work of another, with the intention that the technique, discipline and method, serve as a starting point for the development of creativity and free artistic expression to the participating public.

MINI INTRAMURS looks for the approach at culture and art as actively as possible, not as a spectator but as an active part of the process and the work extent of the possibilities of each discipline and proposal.

The proposals to MINI INTRAMURS may be for an open and general audience, or to a specific audience and a limited number of participants. Both possibilities will be also taken into account, always properly justified.

Proposals must be able to be self-organized and suitable for the audience to which this section addresses.

Projects must not infringe the honor of others, human or animal rights, and will be dismissed those who cause social rejection: racism, sexism or xenophobia.

Projects can be directly elected by the curators and festival coordinators (guest artists) or through the open convocation and a selection committee and its bases (these) are on the web (www.intramurs.org).

FOURTH. Arrangements of the organization

The organization will be give maximum publicity to the projects undertaken in MINI INTRAMURS. The organization has its own web and social networks to spread everything that happens during the festival, so users can be constantly informed. The web, after the festival, will continue to operate as a bank of documentation and information, which can be modified and adapted.

The information contained in this form will be used by the organization of the festival, if the proposal should be accepted, for the diffusion of activity in any media deemed appropriate.

The organization is not able to afford to pay accommodations or trips, but may have discounts on transports and accommodation. For the same reason, any fees or cache will not be paid.

The festival plans to organize for the participating artists spaces of meeting and conviviality, with food and drink.

The organization of MINI INTRAMURS will manage permits for the use of public space. There will also be other urban spaces such as waste grounds or the possibility of other private spaces that can be open for the occasion, as closed shops, shop windows, balconies or other places might be involved. Any place or space that will intervene must state in the project very clearly. MINI INTRAMURS organization will provide the material and requirements for workshops, whenever possible and available therefrom. It can also be considered seeking partners for materials, if they are specific and with sufficient time.

The organization shall coordinate the artists with the public, commercial, institutional spaces and private expository spaces, taking into account the structure of the exhibition. As well as coordinate the workshops of artists who want to open their doors to the festival for individual or group activities.

INTRAMURS will have sound equipment for the DJs' sessions, performances, recitals, electro acoustics music or any event that requires it. Also will coordinate the back-line and the rider of the actions whether music, dance, poetry, performance, etc.

INTRAMURS will have civil liability insurance.

INTRAMURS will have a small team of assembly, as well as interns and volunteers that can possibly help. In case you need this kind of help, you have to specify it.

INTRAMURS will ensure the safety of the works, as far as possible, although the organization will not be responsible in case of breakdown, loss or theft of any pieces.
